

Associations for Physical and Life Science Students

Physical and Life Science Associations

Society for Industrial Microbiology and Biotechnology (SIMB)

Mission: Empower our members and others to address current and future challenges facing humanity using industrial microbiology and biotechnology.

Membership: $58 student membership

Leadership: International membership

Website: <https://www.simbhq.org/>

The Ecological Society of America (ESA)

Mission: The Ecological Society of America advances the science and practice of ecology and supports ecologists throughout their careers.

Membership: $38 student membership

Leadership: National membership

Website: <https://www.esa.org/>

Botanical Society of America (BSA)

Mission: To inspire and promote an inclusive global community committed to advancing fundamental knowledge and innovation in the botanical sciences for the benefit of people and the environment.

Membership: $20 student membership

Leadership: National membership

Website: <https://botany.org/>

Physical and Life Science Associations

American Society for Biochemistry and Molecular Biology

Mission: Founded in 1906, the ASBMB's mission is to advance the science of biochemistry and molecular biology and to promote the understanding of the molecular nature of life processes. The society serves the scientific community through: Publication of scientific and educational journals, organization of scientific meetings, advocacy for funding of basic research and education, support of career development and science education at all levels, and promoting the diversity of individuals entering the scientific workforce.

Membership: $25 student membership

Leadership: National membership

Website: <https://www.asbmb.org/>

American Society for Microbiology (ASM)

Mission: ASM is committed to advocating for public policies that are rooted in science. We recognize the essential role of the microbial sciences in helping to address humanity's most daunting – and evolving – challenges.

Membership: $35 student membership

Leadership: National membership

Website: <https://asm.org/>